Anchorage Elections Office Moving

The Division of Elections' Anchorage office, located in the Dimond Center Tower, will be closed on Monday, May 2 and Tuesday, May 3 while the office moves to a new location. The office will re-open on Wednesday, May 4 at its new location at 2525 Gambell Street, Suite 100.

The new office location on Gambell Street is a more central location in Anchorage and will be easily accessible for people who want to visit the office to update their voter registration information.

Laura Glaiser, the Director of the Division of Elections, said, "One of the major components of the Help America Vote Act is the implementation of new voting machines that are accessible to individuals with disabilities. With the purchase of these new machines this year, the Division will need additional storage space. This new location affords more storage space and is located on the ground floor, making it easier to transport and maintain the voting equipment."

Region II Election Supervisor, Carol Thompson, added, "The new office location gives us a more central location in Anchorage and additional storage space for the new voting machines. We are excited about the move and look forward to serving the Anchorage area in our new location."
